

MOTHERS-IN-LAW MUST WORK IF ABLE, SAYS CHANCELLOR

"They Are More Trouble Than Any Other Thing in Married Life," He Declares.

Vice-Chancellor Stevenson, in Jersey City, in a decision today, said that every mother-in-law who can work must do so and not hang around the house bawling.

The Vice-Chancellor rendered the decision in the separate maintenance suit brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Carey, of Bedford, N. J., against her husband John. According to the evidence it appeared that Mrs. Carey, who had become an inmate of her son's home soon after his wedding. Last winter, however, she graciously accepted a job as cook in a family in Englewood. The family went away this summer and Mrs. Carey came home. This fall when the family returned they wrote asking her to come back.

Mrs. Carey replied in a letter, which was an extract in the case, that she was very sorry to disappoint them, but that she was needed at home to see that things were run properly in her son's home. The Vice-Chancellor, in allowing the separate maintenance plea, said of mothers-in-law in general: "They should by all means, unless decreed and properly supported, either work, or, if of a wealthier class, stay away from their sons and daughters' homes. They cause more trouble than any other thing in married life."

SUNDAY SHOWS TO BE RECORDED IN COURT ROOM

Managers Will Face Transcripts of Performances In Fight for License.

Orders to show cause why their theatre licenses should not be revoked have been served upon William Morris, manager of the American Music Hall, and Sam Huttig, one of the owners of Huttig and Semmon's theatre. Others, which make Harry Hammerstein and the Alhambra Theatre Company defendants, have not yet been served, but Assistant Corporation Counsel Frank B. Pierce expects that attorneys for both will accept service and appear with the other defendants in Supreme Court tomorrow.

The evidence upon which the complaints are based was gathered by the force of the Corporation Counsel. With stenographers and policemen they went to the different theatres on Dec. 29 and made detailed statements regarding the acts that were put on at the Sunday night performances.

They have been satisfied that the provisions of the ordinance were violated, and hence they believe they have sufficient grounds to demand a revocation of the license issued on May 1 by the Police Department.

The legal ground for the action is taken from Section No. 1426, which declares: "Any license provided for by the preceding sections (1424 and 1425) may be revoked and annulled by any justice of any court of record in such city upon proof of a violation of any of the provisions of this title."

The managers are called to court to show why the license should not be revoked.

In the affidavits filed with the court, to substantiate the charge that the law was violated by the performers, much of the conversation of the actors is given and also descriptions of the dress and make-up of the performers.

To purchase a piano manufactured under a false name means to throw your money away.
Stenciled Pianos is the commonest form of piano fraud. It consists in labeling a cheap piano with a name which is identical with that of a good piano. In reality it is nothing but a cheap commercial piano manufactured for the dealer for that purpose and in which there is no reason to believe that it is a good piano.
Caution! Don't buy a piano unless it is a Walters piano. Walters pianos are at any price, for they are the only pianos that people would not part with them.
Our Exchange System places you in a position to exchange your old piano for one of these beautiful Walters Pianos. We will take your old piano in full payment and give you the privilege of paying any balance at $1 a week.
